Learning the Christian faith seems to be a hit and run endeavor these days. Sunday school has become an afterthought. Confirmation has become a task to be completed, not an affirmation of the faith into which one is baptized. Too often the approach to confirmation comes down to three things. Cooperate. Graduate. Move on. Studying, growing and living the faith has given way to subjective application, something without any tangible direction. But how can you apply something you don't know?

Today's drive-through mentality has put the cart before the horse. It seems like learning in any capacity has become something you merely tolerate. This is a product of the culture, in general, and the education system in particular. A recent article in the Lutheran Witness written by Kate Deddens gives quite a scathing review of secular education: "Mainstream education no longer perceives human beings as intentional agents in God's creation, under His harmonizing authority, created with meaningful goals intimately connected to our physical, mental and spiritual nature," Deddens writes. "Instead, it reflects the secular culture which offers a scattered and incoherent vision of what it means to be human.

"This secular vision offers an intensely individualized portrait of humanity, compartmentalized into many disparate components. Separated by everything from purely physical characteristics to indistinct metaphysical beliefs, people are now often seen to be entirely self-determining. This gives a new twist to the ancient aphorism of Protagoras that 'man is the measure of all things.' Contemporary humanity tends to be secularly understood as self-creating, self-identifying and self-fulfilling, without a need for anything that transcends it, let alone a God who governs over it."

Sunday school, adult Bible studies and confirmation provide opportunities to help Christians become more familiar with God's Word and gladly hear and learn it. The Spirit-laden Word is the power of salvation for all who believe (Romans 1:16) so it is of great benefit to hear, read, mark and inwardly digest the Scriptures that we may embrace and ever hold fast the blessed hope of everlasting life.

As Christians, we must look at learning differently than the world. We must look beyond mere expectation and hoop jumping and see God working through the means of His holy Word. God's Word helps put things in perspective and serves to enlighten and strengthen our faith. God's Word helps us to see our place within the confines of God's salvation and activity in the lives of His people. Deddens writes that this forms the tenants of Lutheran teaching, which does not follow the patterns of secular education but rather:

- Focus on God-centered, rather than self-centered, content and learning methodologies.

Acknowledging our status as both saint and sinner, we should ground Lutheran education in the understanding that all knowledge begins with the fear of God (Prov. 1:7), humbly confessing our human condition of fallenness. We can then confess that truth, goodness and beauty are not found within or produced by man-made constructs, but are objective, incarnated by God, and revealed by Him. Thus, for Lutheran educators, the purpose of education ought to be the facilitation of students' capacities to come to know God and His truth, rather than internal, subjective dictums.

- Foster vocational service in love of neighbor - rather than love of, and service to, the self.

Asserting that we are saved by grace through faith and not by personal power or authenticity, Lutheran pedagogy emphasizes that in Baptism all come before God as equals, all sinful yet all saved by His work and not our own. Instead of competition and self-interest, Lutheran education forms students for vocation and service.

- Nurture faith and love of God above all else. Again, because we are saved by God's work and not our own, the primary purpose of education must be to engender faith in our students — above worldly success or ability.

- Set students' eyes on the coming of the new heavens and the new earth, rejecting the illusory idea that any utopia might ever be built by man here in this life.

Romans 8:7-9 tells us: "For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God, for it does not submit to God's law; indeed, it cannot. Those who are in the flesh cannot please God." Paul writes in 1 Corinthians 2:14: "The natural person does not accept the things of the Spirit of God, for they are folly to him, and he is not able to understand them because they are spiritually discerned."

Humanity does not accept the things of God without the Holy Spirit's working, and the Spirit works through the Sacraments and God's Word. Cooperate. Graduate. Move on serves no purpose or lasting benefit. Limited exposure to God's Word leaves little room for God's gifts to encounter us. "Faith comes from hearing, and hearing through the Word of Christ," (Romans 5:17).

Truth, meaning, joy and life are found in God, not apart from Him. Instead of looking to ourselves for all good things, we come to learn and believe these things are impossible without God. The Word of God is not just something to be learned. It remains essential in forming who we are in Christ.

Sept. 15: 2 Corinthians 12:9 - But he said to me, "My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness." Therefore I will boast all the more gladly of my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may rest upon me.

Sept. 22: 2 Corinthians 13:14 - The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ and the love of God and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with you all.

Rev. Rick Jones, DBGR chaplain and director of spiritual life delivered a sermon with the theme of "hope." The altar and pulpit/lectern used paraments from the recently closed North Dakota District congregation, First English in Fairmount. Artist Stacy Askvig donated countless hours in the design and creation of the stained glass window titled "Heaven's Steps."

Upcoming Bible Studies

9:30 a.m. Sunday morning Bible study will provide critical evaluation of evolution, old earth - Beginning Sunday, Sept. 8, with a two-week viewing of "Noah's Flood: Washing Away Millions of Years," followed by a two-week exploration of evolution in "Dismantled," beginning Oct. 6. We will have a two-week break as we celebrate New Member Sunday on Sept. 22 and have a voters meeting Sunday, Sept. 29.

We will explore questions of evolution using observable science. We will be watching two videos: "Noah's Flood: Washing Away Millions of Years" and "Dismantled." These videos are excellent resources to help families discover that science supports the Biblical account of a six-day creation and young earth. Students in seventh through twelfth grades are welcome and encouraged to join the study.

5:45 p.m. Sunday night Family Bible Study: "The Chosen - Season 4" begins Sept. 22 - See the Bible come to life through "The Chosen" video series. We will watch one episode each week followed by a brief discussion.

Bring a dish to share and at 5:45 p.m. we will have a potluck meal in the fellowship hall, watch the nightly episode at 6 p.m., have a discussion at 7 p.m. and end our study by 7:30 p.m. Bring your family and friends for a night of fellowship and faith.

7 p.m. Tuesday night Bible study: "God's Encouraging Word: True Comforts When Worldly Advice Fails" - "Just be positive!" "God only gives you what you can handle." "Others have it harder." People mean well when they say these phrases. They intend to offer comfort and help during difficult times. Yet do these self-help phrases actually offer comfort to you? Do they make things feel worse? Do they align with God's Word?

Author Faith Doerr has heard her fair share of these phrases during struggles in her life. And she knows first-hand how they feel like 'nails on a chalkboard' from the receiving end. If these phrases don't offer comfort, then is there something that can? Scripture. God's Word is full of true comfort that can help you in times of trouble and distress.

Learn how to offer real comfort and hope to those in your life through Scripture in God's Encouraging Word. Copies of the book are available for $11.

9 a.m. Thursday Women's Bible study "Finding Rest in a Busy World" begins Sept. 12 - In Finding Rest in a Busy World, you will explore what the Bible has to say about the importance and value of rest. You will learn ways to recognize if your schedule has gotten out of control and how you can apply the brakes to restore healthy boundaries in your life. Even more, you will discover how God promises you can rest in who He is, what He's done for you, and what He will do for you.

Copies of the book will be available for $7 at the first meeting and can be paid for then.

"Main Street Living North" TV Program News

The war between Iran and Israel and the war in the Ukraine competes for the news headlines with forest fires, flooding, shootings and a long list of other evil that has invaded God's original good creation as a result of sin. Some people have said they've even stopped watching the nightly news because it is so depressing. If we were told only of the evil in our world, there would be no hope, but there is hope - and that hope is in Jesus. Jesus said: "I have told you these things, so that in me you may have peace. In this world you will have trouble. But take heart! I have overcome the world." (John 16:33). Jesus backed up this claim with His resurrection, after taking on Himself the punishment for the sins of the world, including mine and yours!

To add your financial support, send checks to Main Street Living North, 821 Fifth Ave. S., Fargo, ND 58103, or donate by credit card or your PayPal account on the website. God's blessing in Christ!

GLS News

Endure. It's been a long summer of construction and setbacks due to weather. We are enduring because the end of construction marks a new beginning in a place for growing and sharing faith. Hebrews 12:1-2 reminds us that Christ endured the cross to ensure that we receive a new beginning in eternal life with Him. We cling to the cross as we endure our trials on earth, construction included. This project is in God's hands and His perfect timing.

Beginnings. School starts on Sept. 4 and will meet at St. Andrew Lutheran Church through Sept. 20. We will start at the school building on Sept. 23. The school will meet at Immanuel on Sept. 9 and 16.

Volunteers. The week of Sept. 16-20 we will prepare the classrooms and building for occupancy. There is a volunteer sign up link located at www.glsfargo.org with all of our current volunteer opportunities.

Save the date. A Celebration of Grace dinner and auction will be Friday, Nov. 8, at the Sanctuary Events Center. If you have an item to donate, please contact Amy Hirsch at amy.hirsch@glsfargo.org.

Hiring. We are hiring after school childcare workers for the school year. Aftercare runs from 3-6:15 p.m. and has flexible days/hours. This is a great opportunity for high school or college students. Contact Amy Hirsch for an application.

Parking. Please refrain from parking in the Olivet Lutheran Church parking lot. They have requested that we no longer use their parking lot for any reason. Parking instructions will be communicated for all of our community events.

Enrollment. It's never too late to enroll! We have space in our K-8 classrooms. We'd love to share the importance of Christian education and the difference it will make in your family's life.

Growing Together in Grace

Construction is near completion at GLS. As of this writing, the roof is on, windows are in, sheetrock is done, cabinets are here, HVAC and door frames are installed. Contractors are also removing and replacing water-damaged items in two classrooms, the library, bathrooms, locker rooms and main office.

We are still actively fundraising to avoid taking on debt. The next phase of fundraising includes recruiting "Legacy Leaders" to help us gather contact information for our alumni to present them with several ways to reconnect with Grace and support the project. We would love to be part of your planned giving or required minimum distribution this year.

If you would like information about GTIG, would like to make a donation toward the project, interested in becoming a "Legacy Leader" or have old directories or yearbooks from the 1950s-1970s, please contact Amy Hirsch at 701-232-7747.

College Student Fall Retreat

College students and young adults, join us Sept. 20-22 at Shepherd's Hill at the Crossroads, St. John, as we focus on the vocation of student. We will discuss the unique challenges and joys of navigating university life as those who are baptized into Christ. Cost is $125 and covers meals and lodging. To register or for more information contact Pastor Dan Suelzle at wittenbergchapel@gmail.com or 701-215-2592.
